

JOB ADRIAN M. AMBROSIO

Job Adrian M. Ambrosio is a Filipino citizen, lawyer and businessman. He earned his AB Economics and Juris Doctor degree from Ateneo de Manila University and is admitted to practice law in the Philippines in 1999 and passed the State Bar of California.

He is currently the President and Nominee of Wecap Financial, Inc., a licensed stock brokerage in the Philippines and a member of the Philippine Stock Exchange.

He started his career as an associate attorney at the Puyat Jacinto and Santos Law Firm (“PJS Law”) in 1999 and was named partner in 2006. He co-headed the Banking, Finance and Capital Markets Practice Group at PJS. Before being named partner, Job joined the Philippine Government briefly when he became a Special Counsel to the Department of Finance (under the National Power Corp) where he provided legal advice on government debt issuances and privatization matters.

In 2015, Job joined Equis Funds Group a private equity firm with that focused on renewable energy investments in Asia Pacific. He helped establish the Philippine office of Equis and at the same time Job headed the bioenergy arm, Bioeq Energy which built a bioethanol plant and also director for solar and wind projects. Job has been the Chairman of Penwood Corporation since 2008 , which is a consultancy firm providing services to energy and infrastructure companies.

He is currently the minority shareholder and a director of Welcome Bank Philippines, a joint venture with the Welcome Finance Group, which controls the 4th largest savings bank in Korea. He is also Chairman of The Golden Legacy Financing Corp, a financing company. He also Chairman of SBR Labs, which is a clinic, lab and diagnostic center located in Santa Rosa Laguna. He is also a director of Global Alliance Partners. Job is also a shareholder of various companies with businesses in the Philippines and the United States.

Outside of his business activities, Job sits as a Board of Trustee and Corporate Secretary of Acacia Waldorf School, which is one of the accredited Waldorf Schools in the Philippines.

Aside from a law degree, Job also has an International Diploma in Computer Information Systems from the University of California, Berkeley and a Practice Diploma on International Capital Market and Loans from the College of Law of England and Wales. He is also a Cochran Fellow on Biofuels given by the United States Department of Agriculture.